

Tristate view

Here's how five key gauges of income, housing, poverty, education and commuting changed in the 1990s in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, as well as the city of Cincinnati.

Ohio

Median Household Income

$28,706

$40,956

Median Home Value

$62,900

$103,700

Poverty Rate

12.5%

10.6%

High school education or more

75.7%

83%

People driving to work alone

3,889,043

4,392,059

Cincinnati

Median Household Income

$21,006

$29,493

Median Home Value

$60,800

$93,000

Poverty Rate

24.3%

21.9%

High school education or more

69.6%

76.7%

People driving to work alone*

105,011

102,633

Kentucky

Median Household Income

$22,534

$33,672

Median Home Value

$50,100

$86,700

Poverty Rate

19%

15.8%

High school education or more

64.6%

74.1%

People driving to work alone

1,195,088

1,429,053

Indiana

Median Household Income

$28,797

$41,567

Median Home Value

$53,500

$94,300

Poverty Rate

10.7%

9.5%

High school education or more

75.6%

82.1%

People driving to work alone

2,040,232

2,379,989

* Chart for Cincinnatians who drive to work alone is not comparable to state totals