

RAISING YOUR VOICE

New ways to speak out on The Enquirer's Editorial pages

Editorials—This is where we explain our positions on issues that affect the lives of our readers; editorials represent the official stance of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Letters — Formerly called "Readers' Views," the letters to the editor column provides a continuing forum for our readers' varied points of view, briefly stated. Send your letters to Letters, Enquirer Editorial Page, 312 Elm St., Cincinnati, OH 45202, fax (513) 768-8610, e-mail letters@enquirer.com. Limit letters to 100 words, include your name, address and daytime telephone number. Letters may be edited for space and clarity.

Editorial cartoon — On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays we feature the work of our Pulitzer Prize-winning staff cartoonist, Jim Borgman; on other days, we select a cartoon on a topic of interest from one of several syndicated cartoonists.

Syndicated columnists
Some of your favorite commentators from the left to the right appear on the daily Opinions page and throughout the Sunday Forum section:
Sunday — Richard Cohen and Walter Williams
Monday — Leonard Pitts Jr.
Tuesday — William Safire
Wednesday — Richard Cohen and Kathleen Parker
Thursday — William Safire
Friday — Charles Krauthammer
Saturday — James J. Kilpatrick and Kathleen Parker

Today's opinion maker
A quote on a current topic by a prominent person in the news.

Your Voice is exactly that — your voice. It's an opportunity for readers to express their opinions on topics they care about in a space that's longer than a letter to the editor but shorter than a traditional column. This new feature will appear on our editorial page seven days a week, and we invite area residents from all walks of life to join in. To submit an opinion, contact editorial writer Ray Cooklis at (513) 768-8525, e-mail rcooklis@enquirer.com. We hear from plenty of politicians, pundits and officials on these pages. But the most important voice in the Enquirer is yours.

This rotating feature offers you a different way of looking at the issues every day.
