

Would your high school allow this shirt?

Here are some T-shirt logos we spotted on teen-agers or in stores recently. We asked Enquirer student panelists whether these would be allowed at their schools, based on how strictly rules are enforced. Then we asked administrators the same question.

If the T-shirt says...

Schools	StudioSlave	TOOL	Redneck divorce: "Git outta the truck!"	Wiener dog races: The odds are always long	Kentucky: Electricity in almost every town	THIS BLOWS	Gettin' lucky in Kentucky
WALTON-VERONA
student opinion	yes		no	no	no	no	no
administrator opinion	yes	yes	no	no	yes	no	no
SCOTT
student opinion	yes	yes	yes	yes	yes	yes	yes
administrator opinion	yes	yes	yes	yes	yes	no	no
SEVEN HILLS
student opinion	no/yes*	yes/probably not*	no/depends on size and graphics	no	no	no	no/depends
administrator opinion	no	yes	no	no (but may be harmless)	no	no	no
BOONE COUNTY
student opinion	yes	yes	yes	probably not	yes	no	yes
administrator opinion	yes	yes	borderline	borderline	yes	yes	borderline
SIMON KENTON
student opinion	yes	yes	probably not	no	yes	yes	yes
administrator opinion	probably not	probably not	yes	probably not	yes	yes	yes
HOLMES
student opinion	no	no	no	no	no	no	no
administrator opinion	no	no	no	no	no	no	no
ST. URSULA
student opinion	yes	yes	no	yes	yes	no	no
administrator opinion	no	no	no	no	no	no	no

(If you'd like to join our educator or student panels, email kgutierrez@enquirer.com)

*Several students were surveyed and gave different answers. This school requires uniforms, so these answers apply only to out-of-uniform days.

Sources: School administrators and students Megan Huellemeier, Ali Kathman, Anna Cupito, Marissa Mishne, Kelsey Johnson, M.J. Wayne, Alex Klein, Graylyn Roose, Rob Friedman, Hannah Daly, Amanda Bills, Daniel Zimmer, Allison Simmons, Emily Zembroch, Nathaniel Gravely, Sean Feeney, Jessica Fisher, Nathaniel Miller, Nina Bosken and Erica Clark